

2007 Pre-Med Revival Conference

“The Heart of a Physician.”

Dear Future Physicians:

On February 15th-18th, 2007 Cream City Medical Society Undergraduate Chapter (CCMS-UG) will be hosting our First Annual Pre-Med Revival Conference and this year's theme is, “The Heart of a Physician”. This event will take place at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Student Union facilities. The purpose of this conference is to assist students with their career aspirations of becoming future minority physicians. The conference is designed to meet the students' academic needs, at the same time giving the students a clearer understanding of the spiritual relationship and responsibility that goes along with the vocation of becoming future doctors. However, the conference is open to all wanting to improve their studentship in the medical field and their relationship with God.

Wisconsin is by far not one of the best places for success when you're talking about the average Minority. Having an effective plan of success is key to being successful. Linden Ravenhill once said “An opportunity of a lifetime must be seized in the lifetime of the opportunity”. If preparation for success is so important securely, how much more important is it for us to be prepared spiritually? It is a worldwide, historical fact that spiritually has gotten Minorities through every major trial that has been thrown at us.

Cream City's hope is that through studentship we will be molded into sharper tools for God to utilize in our community. And through our sharpened relationship with God, we will learn how to better handle the trials of life; therefore seeing the bigger picture. And what is the bigger picture? That's what the, “Heart of a Physician” is all about. Hope to see you there!

Sincerely,

Alicia Marie Armstrong
